In case you want to get all the courses from the database, you can do it something like this: public IList GetAllCourses() { IList courses = m.Table().ToList(); return courses; } Also please make sure that the model you are using has all the properties mapped to the tables in the database . (2) To test whether the centromeric repeat-derived silencing activities which we observed were distributed as a large domain or at discrete loci. (3) To test whether the observed centromeric repeat-derived activity was dependent on the repeat sequence. (4) To test for other factors that may contribute to heterochromatin spreading. As these studies are undertaken we will continue the investigations of gene regulation that will be a focus of this new grant.
